

$2,764.30 Subscribed to Boy Scout Campaign, Final Reports Friday

Official Campaign Will be Continued Two Days Longer—Amount Subscribed an Average of Over $4 Per Card.

With a quota of $5,000 set for the city of Kingston as its share of the expense of carrying on Scouting in the Ulster-Greene Council during the coming year, reports at the meeting Wednesday evening showed a total of $2,764.30 subscribed up to date—a little more than half the amount asked for.

At the request of team captain, who stated that many of their prospects could not be seen before Thursday or Friday, it was decided to continue the official campaign two days longer, with final reports at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night.

Judge Hasbrouck, general chairman for the campaign in the entire council, was present Wednesday evening and spoke briefly. He said that anyone ought to be proud to have a hand in the work of helping the boys of today become men that would be equal to the tasks they would soon be called upon to perform. He held that one of the outstanding virtues of the Scouting program was that it taught a sense of honor, one of the greatest possessions anyone could desire.

Reports showed that Charles R. O'Connor's division had again taken the lead, with a total of $532.50 in subscriptions secured. Mrs. Dumur's division being second with a total of $492.50. The outstanding worker in the campaign so far, for number of subscriptions, is Mrs. H. W. Ford, who has turned in 103 subscriptions, totaling $211.55. Mrs. Ford won the prize Wednesday evening, having turned in 45 subscriptions since the last report—twice as many as any other worker.

The amount subscribed to date was given by 629 subscribers, an average of over $4 per card. Scout Executive Wright called attention to the fact that a much smaller average than this for all of the prospects whose names have been placed on cards and given to the workers would more than put the city over on its quota. He adds that the only problem is to induce the workers to call upon every prospective subscriber.

Following is the standing of the various divisions and individual workers up to Wednesday evening:

Wintry Blast Blankets Eastern Half Of Country, Heavy Damage

By The Associated Press

The North American continent was marked today by the effects of a wintry blast that left behind it a trail of death.

Shipping was seriously handicapped by a howling autumn gale, accompanied by rain and fog that lashed the north Atlantic coast yesterday and last night, while seven lumbermen were swept to their doom by the swollen waters of the Big Salmon river, fourteen miles from St. Martins in St. John county, New Brunswick. They were caught on a sandbar while driving for lumber for a paper company.

The cold belt extended from Canada down into Dixie over the eastern half of the United States. New York state was hard hit. From six to twelve inches of snow cloaked highways and paralyzed communication in the Adirondacks. Three deer hunters for whom fears were felt, were found by searchers. One of them was suffering from exposure.

Heavy damage was reported by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in Vermont, where the first severe snow storm of the season played havoc with communication lines.

There were snow buries in Chicago and Cleveland, while to the north a record breaking snow covered Duluth, Minn.

Down south the residents got out their overcoats and shivers, and expected to be cold again today. Atlanta, Ga., reported a temperature of 41 yesterday, the coldest day since last April 20.

The few owners of the Susquehanna river near Afton, N. Y., claimed the lives of seven persons, a man, his wife, their three children and two 14-year-old girls. They were drowned when their automobile rolled down an embankment into the river. All of the bodies were recovered.

Floods Damage School Building, Mt. Tremper Church Hall Being Used

Recent Flood Carries Away Protective Ground and Foundation Wall Gives Way—School Now Being Held In The Church Hall.

School is being held in the church hall at Mt. Tremper pending repairs to the schoolhouse. For the past several years the floods in the Esopus creek have gradually washed away the earth at the rear of the schoolhouse and the last flood carried away the last of the remaining protective ground, exposing the schoolhouse walls. Last week the foundation wall gave way and school was suspended for two days until arrangements were made to hold school in the hall.

The schoolhouse stands on an elevation along the east bank of the Esopus creek a few feet below the site of the iron bridge which connected Mt. Tremper and Mt. Pleasant. In August during the flood this bridge was carried away and since that time the school property has gradually been undermined until the walls weakened.

Taxpayers of the town are seeking some means of relief and protection from future damage to property. An organization was recently formed to investigate and take steps to prevent New York city from emptying the Esopus water into the Esopus so as to endanger property along the stream and also to determine steps through which residents of the town may be compensated for damage which has already been done to property. People of the town contend that much of the damage done is caused by the additional flow of the Esopus water through the Esopus channel and the constant wearing away of the creek banks by this foreign water.

M. Surraut was tendered the office yesterday over a half dozen others mentioned to succeed Edouard Daladier who resigned with his cabinet after a vote of no confidence in the chamber of deputies.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—A reduction of $105,000 in electric rates paid by customers of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. was ordered by the public service commission today.

The reduction applies to Poughkeepsie, Beacon, Newburgh, Kingston and other Hudson valley communities.

The new scale reduces the counted room charges in the residential rate but maintains the same net energy charges as heretofore, while demand and energy charges are reduced in the commercial rate.

Zeppelin Visits Chicago And Fair

Makes Uneventful Trip From Akron—Soars Over City And Fair Grounds—Dr. Eckener Remained At Fair.

Chicago, Oct. 26 (AP)—After a stop of less than half an hour in Chicago this morning the Graf Zeppelin again took to the air while its veteran commander, Dr. Hugo Eckener, remained behind to receive the acclaim of Chicago and the World's Fair.

The ship headed toward Lake Michigan and then returned to circle the airport before starting south on what apparently was another cruise over the World's Fair grounds.

It was not announced whether the Graf would continue on to Milwaukee, before returning to Akron.

O. However, officers in charge said they were due in Akron this afternoon.

Dr. Eckener conversed briefly with personal friends at the airport before he started for Chicago accompanied by a motorcycle escort.

Award Edward Rose Gold Price Ahead $10,000 And His Son Again Today, May $200 For Injuries Not Be Daily Trend

Suffered On July 4, 1930. When Struck By Auto While Walking On Highway—Three Negligence Actions Continued Today.

Edward Rose, New Paltz farmer, was awarded $10,000 by a supreme court jury Wednesday afternoon and his son, Mason Rose, was awarded $200 for injuries which they suffered on July 4, 1930, when a car struck them as they walked along the Kingston-New Paltz highway. The jury, which was termed "a very intelligent jury" by Judge Foster following the rendering of the verdict, found a verdict of no cause of action against Otis C. Myers of Chatham, who was the only one of three defendants to appear and defend the action. The verdicts were against Eugene H. Thomason, owner of the car which struck plaintiffs, and Madeline Brooks of New Paltz who was driving the car at the time.

Mr. Myers testified that he had sold the car several days prior to the accident and had permitted Thomason to use dealer plates to drive the car to North Carolina. Thomason's home, where it was to be registered by Thomason. Instead of driving to North Carolina, Thomason evidently remained in this locality after the five days permitted under the law for use of dealer's plates had expired. Mr. Myers denied any liability in the action and the jury upheld his contention.

Myers operates an automobile sales business at Chatham. His books showed the car involved in the accident had been sold to Thomason on June 19 while the accident happened on July 4, 1930. Rosecoe V. Elsworth appeared for plaintiffs and A. J. Cook and Kenneth Dugan of the firm of Rosendale, Dugan and Haines of Albany appeared for Myers. The other two defendants were not represented.

After the verdict had been taken Judge Foster extended all jurors except the panel sitting in the box until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Three actions for negligence were on trial during the afternoon and three actions continued.

Three actions for negligence were on trial during the afternoon and three actions continued. The first action was for damages to a Ford car which he owned and which he had loaned to Cavanaugh to make a trip to Elmira on the day of the accident. Mr. Cavanaugh seeks to recover damages for himself and his son, Walter, Jr., seeks damages for severe injuries about the face which he suffered when he was thrown through the side window of the car when the cars came together in New Paltz. Young Cavanaugh was cut about the mouth, face and knee. It is alleged that the accident happened near a corner and plaintiff claims that his car was struck by the defendant's car near the rear and ran over into a hydrant tossing the young child out.

Philip A. Myrdal appears for plaintiff and A. J. Cook for defendants.

NEW YORK MAYORALTY CAMPAIGN WAXES HOT.

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—A "red plot" and woman suffrage entered the mayoralty campaign today as Joseph V. McKee and Florentino H. La Guardia grew fighting mad and reached for clubs with which to whack each other.

McKee, the recovery party candidate, accused La Guardia last night of being a dangerous Red and a leader of a "plot to put us under the politics and philosophy of Moscow."

"He would be the first to lead the mob," McKee said.

La Guardia, replying, called himself an "independent progressive" owing allegiance to no party.

A woman leader in La Guardia's faction came hurled at McKee an accusation that in 1915 he wrote for the "Catholic World" an article impugning the morality of woman suffrage leaders.

Mrs. Courtland Nicoll read from the article and called it a "scurrilous and unwarranted attack made on the moral probity of those sincere women."

THREE CASES BEFORE JUDGE CULLOTON IN POLICE COURT

Frank Clark and Edward Lee, two negroes who claimed Middletown as their home, were arrested Wednesday afternoon on charges of pandering on North Front street near Wall street. This morning in police court they were given suspended sentences provided they left town within the hour.

William Speigelman of Brooklyn, parked his car on the cross walk on Crown street on Wednesday afternoon. This morning he forfeited $5 cash bail by failing to appear in police court to answer to the charge.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Today's Price For Newly Mined Gold Set At $31.54 Per Ounce, 18 Cents Higher Than Wednesday—Price May Not Be Jumped Daily, Says Roosevelt.

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—Today's newly mined gold price was announced by the treasury as $31.54 an ounce, 18 cents higher than yesterday's quotation.

The price was 35 cents greater than quotations this morning on the London gold exchange, converted into dollars at a rate of $1.75 to the pound.

While the increase in the London price over yesterday was ten cents per ounce, the advance in the treasury quotation was nearly double that.

It was stated officially today that President Roosevelt's gold buying program which has brought two successive increases in prices for the metal does not necessarily mean that the price will be jumped up every day.

Indications were voiced that so long as the American price keeps ahead of the foreign market levels, a point may be reached when it will not be felt necessary to increase the quotation.

Purchases of the metal will continue on a daily basis.

Yesterday, when this Roosevelt policy was inaugurated, the domestic price was fixed at $31.36 against London figure of $31.09.

An exchange rate of $4.75, today's a London figure of $31.09.

While this was a decrease of three cents as compared with yesterday, there was actually an increase in the London gold price in British currency.

It jumped from 130 shillings, one penny, to 130 shillings, 9 1/2 pence.

Variation in foreign exchange accounted for the decrease in the dollar value.

Today's price was determined by the committee appointed by the president to attend to this duty.

As on yesterday, Chairman Jesse Jones of the RFC and Henry Morgenthau, Jr., representing the President, called upon Acting Secretary Dean Acheson at his office in the treasury.

They received the latest figures from London on gold and foreign exchange quotations. Quickly arriving at their decision, they dispatched copies of a formal statement to newspapermen waiting at telephones in the press room two floors below.

"The Reconstruction Finance Corporation will accept subscriptions for its issue of notes maturing February 1, 1934, payable only in newly mined gold, that is, gold recovered from natural deposits in the United States and at any territory subject to its jurisdiction, at the rate of $31.54 per ounce of fine gold under regulations for consignment, deposit and tender of gold and delivery of obligations established by the Treasury Department and Reconstruction Finance Corporation."

University Closed As Bomb Is Planted

Another Attempt on Governor's Life Causes Move by Authorities—Part of Executive Home Wrecked.

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Oct. 26 (AP)—A recess hastily was called at stricken Puerto Rico University today as another attempt was reported on the life of Governor Gore.

During the 12-day vacation an attempt will be made to adjust differences which brought students pouring out of their class rooms in boisterous strike.

Trouble developed rapidly after Rafael Alonzo Torres, to whom student objection because they considered him incompetent, was named to the university board of trustees.

There was grave concern on all sides today as authorities sought to run down those who planted a bomb which wrecked a part of Governor Gore's summer home at Jajones, A. I.

ACREAGE MAY GO FREE TO TENANTS.

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—A part of the 15,000,000 acres of cotton land the government expects to rent next year will be available for the use—probably free—of tenants who may be dispossessed by the program.

The cotton plan calls for the reduction of land planted to the staple from the past average of 40,000,000 to about 25,000,000 acres for 1934.

The prospect that thousands of families might be forced from the land as a result has been one of the chief concerns of the farm administration.

Liquor Advertising Put on Shoulders of Postmaster General

Department of Justice Will Not Start Proceedings Unless Requested—Such Advertising Still Barred From Mails.

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—The justice department ruled today that the admissibility of newspapers carrying liquor advertising to the mails was a subject for the consideration of the postmaster general, and that it could not institute proceedings unless requested to do so by the post office department.

Attorney General Cummings held the Reed amendment barring such advertising from the mails to be still in effect, and said it would continue in effect after repeal.

"The amendment provides that the postmaster general is authorized and directed to make public from time to time in suitable bulletins or public notices the names of states in which it is unlawful to advertise or solicit orders for such liquors," the department said.

"It is the duty of the postmaster general, therefore, to pass upon the admissibility of such advertisements which are intended to be deposited in the mails for transmission into dry states which prohibit such matter."

"The question whether proposed advertisements are available in one state for the consideration of the postmaster general."

"If alleged violations of the Reed amendment are reported to the department of justice by the postmaster general, this department will give appropriate attention to such cases."

MAYOR O'BRIEN BANS "GERMAN DAY" IN ARMORY

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Foes of Nazism were jubilant today as Mayor John P. O'Brien turned thumbs down, finally and officially, on a "German Day" rally in a public armory next Sunday.

The mayor, after an uproarious hearing guarded by 100 policemen, refused last night to lift his ban on the meeting, which opponents had denounced as a forum for Nazi propaganda.

He said "a group of propagandists sent here by a foreign power" had seized control of the United German Societies, which planned the rally. The meeting, he said, would "lead to violence, riot and possibly loss of life."

The Rev. Dr. William Popeke, acting head of the societies, denied Nazi had control and promised "no racial remarks" would be made, but the mayor remained adamant.

Roars of applause shook the hearing chamber, crowded to the doors with Jews and Christians, when opponents of the meeting denounced a Heinz Spanknoebel as leader of a group of "alien agitators" who had come from Germany to spread Nazi propaganda and get control of German-American organizations by "terrorism."

EUEL LEE AWAITS DEATH AS LAST PLEA FAILS

Baltimore, Oct. 26 (AP)—Euel Lee, 60-year-old negro convicted of slaying Green K. Davis, Tappanville farmer and his former employer, two years ago, today awaited his execution shortly after midnight at the Maryland penitentiary.

Lee's counsel lost their last effort to delay the hanging when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond last night denied a certificate of probable cause. Governor Albert C. Ritchie has refused to grant any stay of sentence.

U. S. Hearings on Nazi Start November 14

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Gene Byrnes was telling of the self professional at a dramatic summer resort who charged $10 an hour for lessons. His rule was that at the first lesson, the pupil bring his clubs along so that he might inspect them. He'd begin with the driver, look at it long and carefully and finally announce that it was at only for the junk heap. "But I'll sell you a good one," he'd add. Then he'd pick up the driver and after due deliberation announce that it was worth nothing at all but that he'd see that his pupil would get one with which shots could be made. So he would go through the entire bag, giving each club a most careful examination and condemning them all. "In other words," continued Byrnes, "he'd take an hour and ten minutes to tell the pupil a new set of clubs. But he never made any charge for the extra ten minutes."

Then Grantland Rice came forward with the story of the professional down South. That particular pro's system was to inform his pupils that the way to learn to play golf was to observe an expert make shots and then try to imitate him. Putting his pupil in a comfortable chair, he would start by making drives. He'd allow the pupil a shot or two but would get in a good hour's practice for which he was well paid. That continued for two seasons. Then the squawks became so numerous that the pro finally lost his job.

Some way or other, I can't seem to get out of my mind this ad from the "Public Notices" column of the Herald-Tribune: "Man for sale, $950 cash; full two-year servitude; cultured, Christian, unencumbered, forty-seven; drive, nurse, gardener, housework, anything, anywhere."

In the Belvedere Towers meteorological observatory in Central park is a thermometer with the mercury tube painted black, while the thermometer itself is suspended in a vacuum tube. It is used for determining the full burning effect of the sun, the black paint absorbing the rays and the vacuum minimizing the cooling effect of breezes. Fortunately for all of us, human beings, as I was told, never get the full effect of the sun, the body being cooled by breezes and by the evaporation of perspiration. But the last time I looked at that black bulb thermometer, it showed 142 degrees and though perspiring freely, I felt even hotter than that.

Writes F. B. S. from Chicago: "While Fifth avenue may be the show-case of the world, Broadway is the show-off of the world."

A well-known short-story writer—nameless here at his own request—is still puzzling over a happening of a week ago. With the dead line for a story only a week ahead, he found himself as barren as a clay pit, and the more he searched for a suitable plot, the more hopeless his plight seemed to become. Wornout, he went to bed sometime after midnight only to be awakened an hour or so later by a dream so vivid that he sprang out of bed and stumbled into his study. Fearing details would escape him, he began to type notes hurriedly.

Just as he was finishing, his wife, aroused by the typewriter, came in to see why he was working at such an hour. He had dreamed a plot, he told her, that exactly fitted his needs, even the characters being clear and distinct. With a thrill of excitement, he outlined it to her. When he had concluded, she looked at him strangely. Then she asked him if he had read a magazine that had come in the mail the day before. He replied that he had been too busy to even look at it. "That's queer," said his wife. "You've outlined to me the story I read in that magazine before I dropped off to sleep."

Subway conversational bit: "He ain't nothin' but a big cheap skate. I offered to pick up the check last night and he let me."

Harrisburg, Pa.—Reports are being circulated in California that the state of Pennsylvania prohibits singing in the bathtub.

Two residents of that state have written Richard J. Bonnichs, secretary of the commonwealth, requesting copies of such a law.

The latest request came from a man who said he was making a compilation of obsolete and ridiculous laws. He was informed that singing in the bathtub is a practice the legislature hasn't interfered with.

Washington Daybook

by HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Because of the intense concentration of the whole Washington set-up toward the drive for national recovery, significant moves are made here from time to time which often pass unnoticed.

One such cropped up recently.

Upon recommendation of Secretary Wallace, the President named Dr. Henry C. Taylor of Wisconsin as American delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture in Rome.

The significant thing about the Taylor appointment, from the stand point of agricultural officials, is that the United States is again participating actively in this world-wide organization.

Taylor's designation as American delegate again gives this country a seat on the permanent committee of the institute and thus a large share in shaping future policies of the organization.

An Unfilled Vacancy

OUR last delegate was Arthur Hobson, who resigned in 1930. Reports at the time were that he was in disagreement with the manner in which the institute was being conducted.

At any rate, his successor was not appointed immediately. Until a few weeks ago when Secretary Wallace, a strong believer in the institute,

The United States became a member of the institute in 1924 upon formal ratification of a treaty by the United States senate. More than 60 governments of the world are represented now.

In view of the great effort now being made in this country to rehabilitate agriculture, experts believe that putting an American representative on the permanent committee of the institute is significant.

It Fits In

THE main objectives of the institute, they point out, fit in with plans now in progress to aid agriculture in this country. They are: (1) collection of statistical, technical and economic information on agriculture throughout the world; (2) study of the progress of agricultural cooperation and the drafting of general suggestions for the good of the industry; and (3) study of policies designed to benefit agricultural workers in all countries.

Under the auspices of the institute the first world census of agriculture was taken in 1930.

In all of this Taylor, as an American delegate, will participate. On the purely technical questions which arise he will report to the department of agriculture. On matters of policy he will confer with the state department.

Six Kats to Every Human

While the human population of the world is estimated at nearly 2,000,000,000, the rat population is placed at 10,000,000,000, or at the proportion of six to every human being.

Rotarians Heard About Study Trip

A journey of over 5,000 miles through the industrial centers of the east and south by automobile, a journey that cost the eight young men taking it a little over 90 cents per day for a period of six weeks, was described in enthusiastic detail to the Kingston Rotary Club yesterday noon by two young men of Kingston who were members of the party. These two boys, Francis Phillips and Van Darrow, recently described the trip, giving their reaction to the things they saw and the knowledge they gained as their planned itinerary took them through such recognized industrial plants as the General Electric Company, the Eastman Kodak Company, the Ford Motor Car Company, the Kellogg plant, the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company and the Coca-Cola plant. To mention a few of the places they visited during the course of the trip. The trip was made possible through a foundation that is maintained for this express purpose. Founded by two New York city men who were interested in young business men, the foundation provided specially equipped automobiles with accommodations for ten occupants, with the members of the party paying for the gas, oil, repairs and food that the trip necessitated. The itinerary is planned by the men taking it. They are able of time depending on the amount the party plans to spend. This trip that Mr. Darrow and Mr. Phillips took was slightly more expensive than others of like nature as only eight men were in the party, and the cost was therefore distributed between eight rather than ten people. Each member was asked to keep a diary, and at the conclusion of the trip the boy handing in the best diary was awarded a prize of $10.

The two Kingston boys along with the other six members of the party, left Tamaque Park in their specially designed automobile August 26, with an itinerary that would take them through approximately 30 industrial centers. The automobile was rigged up with all the necessary equipment to camp with, and after visiting Schenectady, Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, they crossed the border into Canada and spent some time at the Toronto Exposition. From there they went to Detroit and later to Battle Creek, Michigan, then southward through Georgia, North Carolina, Louisiana and Florida, visiting important industrial centers en route. The World's Fair at Chicago was also visited, as was the Swift Packing Company of that city. The experiences and side lights of the trip were ably described by the two speakers, and that their travels brought them both pleasure and

Little of This and A Little of That

Democratic City of Economy Reminds the Busy Barber of the Tale of the Man Who Economized by Doing His Own Painting.

"Well, the old political pot is boiling for fair now," observed the customer as he dropped into the barber shop this morning.

"And the same old Democratic cries of economy are making the walking ring," replied the busy barber with a grin.

"Well, they did some economizing on the Boulevard job," said the customer.

"Sure they did," replied the busy barber. "For after spending some $55,000 for grading the mile strip of street they decided to call in the state and have it finish the job at a cost of $46,000."

"Well, spending $104,322.12 on a portion of a street slightly over a mile long may be considered economy," argued the customer, smiling.

"Sure, Democratic economy," argued the busy barber. "In fact it puts me in mind of the man who decided to do the job of painting his kitchen floor himself and save a few dollars."

"Shoot it along," said the customer.

"Well, he bought a gallon of paint and a brush and shooting the family out for the afternoon he started work," continued the barber. "As he was just finishing up when his wife stuck her head in the kitchen door to see how he was coming along."

"Not a bad job, so far," said the wife, "but how are you going to get out?"

It seems the economy-minded man had started painting the floor near the kitchen door and when about finished he had painted himself into a corner with no way out but stepping through the fresh laid paint.

"In other words," said the customer as the barber paused, "the Democrats have gotten themselves into a corner and see no way out to explain their program of economy."

"That's it exactly," replied the barber. "For if they continued to build streets at the same price as the Boulevard the city would be bankrupt."

"Would you call the Boulevard project 'The road to ruin'?" asked the customer.

"Either that or the road to bankruptcy," said the barber.

***** HIGH FALLS *****

High Falls, Oct. 26.—Wessel Hasbrouck of Poughkeepsie was a caller in this place Sunday.

The Longan family of Yonkers has been spending some time at the parish house.

There were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burhans the past Sunday.

Miss Ethel Wheeler and Miss Gwen Church were callers at Locust Hurst Cottage Monday afternoon.

At the last meeting of the consistory a resolution was passed sponsoring a Scout troop in the community. A Scout committee consisting of Oscar Church, W. L. Krom, Ashton Hart, William Quick and Hubert Smith has been formed. It will now be possible for the boys to apply for a charter at the national headquarters. The Scouts meet every Monday evening from 7:30 to 8:30 at the Reformed parsonage.

Miss Fanny Elmsdorf and friend from Poughkeepsie motored out Sunday and called on her sister, Mrs. Mary Beach, and also on relatives in Stone Ridge.

The roast beef supper held in the basement of the Reformed Church Wednesday evening of this week was a great success, both socially and financially. The consistory thanks all who in any way helped to make this event such a success.

Mrs. Frank Davis of Kingston spent Tuesday at the home of her father, John H. Ayers.

The Ladies' Missionary Society held its regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the president, Mrs. Oscar Church. The subject taken up was the work among the Japanese in America. It was a most interesting meeting and enjoyed by all present.

The society is now planning to get a box ready to send to Kentucky. All interested in the work are requested to look and see if they have anything suitable that they would like to send. These articles may be left with Mrs. Oscar Church or Miss Jessie Snyder some time by the first of November as they are planning to get the box off around this time.

Clothes, toys, picture books, postal albums or something you may have, may prove a great help and delight to those poor people of Kentucky.

Two one-act plays entitled "The Ghost Hunters" and "Betty's Butler" will be given tonight 7:30 by the young people in the Reformed Church basement. Refreshments will be served after the plays.

Miss Gertrude DeWay has taken a position in the Rose & Gorman store, Kingston, where she has charge of the circulating library and the pattern department. Miss DeWay is giving fine satisfaction and likes her work very much.

How to Reduce Heating Costs

by JOHN BARCLAY,
Heating Expert

In my last article I gave a list of "Don'ts" and suggested that they be observed in the daily operation of your home heating plant. This week I want to give you a short list of "Do's" . . . and a few Don'ts that I know from experience will prove helpful to any home owner:

Keep a little ash on your grates at all times; keep the ash-pit clean; keep the fire-box full; keep the smoke-pipe damper (sometimes known as the turn, or "butterfly" damper) as nearly closed as possible; keep the heating surfaces and smoke pipe clean; keep all doors open when there is no fire in the furnace; keep the water in a steam plant, at the proper level; have the furnace cleaned and inspected once each season; call your coal dealer if you have any difficulty.

And now for a few more "don'ts": Don't use the poker to stir up the fire; don't shake the fire roughly (a gentle shaking until you see the first red glow in the ash pit is sufficient); don't burn coal that is too large for your furnace; don't burn coal that is too small for your furnace; don't allow the feed door to remain open when the fire is burning; don't allow air to remain in hot water radiators; don't try to regulate the fire by opening and shutting the ash-pit door alone; don't shake down the fire before banking at night unless it is necessary to make room for coal required for banking.

Follow these suggestions and prove to yourself that you can save coal, time, and trouble . . . and money!

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

M. K. New York City—Whether it is advisable to take the water out of the boiler or not depends somewhat on conditions surrounding the boiler . . . also whether it is steel or cast iron. The water usually can be left in a cast iron boiler if the basement is dry. With a steel boiler, however, it is almost imperative that the water be drained off and the boiler opened up to dry. Sometimes, if the boiler is to be out of service a very long time, oil is put on top of the water before draining. As the water level drops, the oil covers the inside surface with a protecting film.

J. B. J., Ticonderoga, N. Y.—From the information given, I feel that this furnace should give very good results. However, I suggest that the check damper be installed on the chimney side of the turn damper. By using stove or chestnut size coal, a good heat can be obtained. If a thermostat is installed, this heat will be uniform, and can be maintained with very little attention.

(If you have any heating problems address John Barclay, Room 1814, 120 Broadway, New York City. He will be glad to reply in a personal letter.)

Talks to parents

The behavior of children is somewhere more seemingly contradictory than when faced by a doctor or dentist. A child who will face the fights and injuries of play may turn into a coward at the prospect of incision or a simple extraction of a baby tooth, and may have to be held forcibly by parents or nurses while the minor operation is per-

The psychology is, however, simpler than it seems.

But the doctor's office is a different thing. Here he feels himself helpless against insuperable odds. His imagination exaggerates the pain and discomfort which he anticipates; there is none of the excitement of battle, no hope of escape. Yes, one—his natural protector, father or mother is present, and in the hope of eliciting their sympathy and help, he turns to them. That they, too, are against him intensifies his Cruel as it may seem, it is wiser for parents not to appear at these funerals. To comfort themselves they may be present but invisible. Pride will, as a rule, then come to the child's aid, and he will go through his ordeal without a whimper.

If not, it is best to leave the problem in the disinterested hands of doctors and nurses who are not torn by sympathy and humiliation, and who have had previous experience of the same kind.

Immanuel Men's Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Immanuel Men's Club will be held in the hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The topic discussion for the month of October will be under the direction of George C. Bode. The refreshment committee has promised refreshments after the meeting. All members are requested to be present.

Deer Family Misses Call Bladder. Most members of the deer family, with just a few exceptions, have no gall bladder. The exceptions include the antelope and the Asiatic musk deer.

American Language in Need of Equivalents

Since the word is a complaint to the newspapers that there is no shorter and more graphic word than "pedestrian" for the person who uses his legs to walk, says a writer in the Boston Transcript, "Walker" doesn't quite fit the bill. It seems to imply one who makes walking a profession. A "walker" is one who goes off on holiday rambles. "Footstagger," an English term, is supposed to apply to the infantry branch of the army. Equally unsuitable are "traveller," "footman," "hiker," "tramp" and "hobo." We seem forced to fall back on "pedestrian" to describe the people who go their ways in the city streets and make up the mountain trails at the week-end of those who have suffered in automobile accidents.

So the language has forever lacked a word equivalent to "pedestrian" for those who are on foot. We must always say that one died of thirst, whereas it would be simpler and more direct to say that one "thirsted" or was "thirsty." The Germans have "dursteten" and perhaps "dursteten." The French seem no better off than we are unless they use "soifiront," which it is to be feared would never have the sanction of the academy. Perhaps the Greeks have a word for it. But so long as we have no way of calling a "pedestrian" something less susceptible of explanation than a man perished of thirst in just one word, our language leaves much to be desired.

Nuts of Pinoy Found on Western Pine Trees

Pinoy nuts, the product of several varieties of low-growing western pine trees, constituted a substantial source of the food of Indians of the Southwest before the white man invaded that territory. These nuts have continued to find favor in Mexico and southwestern United States in recent years, according to a ranger naturalist of the office of national parks, who states that at one time they brought as much as 40 cents a pound and represented a total annual market value of $1,000,000.

These highly prized nuts are found in two small cavities at the bases of the pine cones. Nuts are not produced every year, but when they are a single cone averages about 15 nuts though some contain as many as 24.

Pinoy nuts have soft shells which are easily crushed and contain solid kernels of sweet white meat. Among the Haasupais, Hopis, Navajos and other Indian tribes the nuts are used chiefly in the form of a meal into which they are ground. The Navajos also make the nuts into a paste which they use much as we use butter.

Arctic Patrol

There is no more romantic force in the world than the Canadian Mounted police, at one time known as the North-West Mounted police. From outposts in the Arctic Islands "The Mounties" patrol the "roof" of the North American continent and carry the king's law to within ten degrees of the pole. In 1874, the force, then composed of 300 men of all ranks, made a demonstration from Red River, Manitoba, 2,000 miles across prairies to the foot of the Rockies. Ever since, the Indians have regarded the red coats as their friends. When a treaty between the Blackfoot Indians and the government was under negotiation, their chief said: "They have guarded us as the feathers guard the birds from the snows of winter. I will sign." The force numbers 2,500 officers and men. They watch the international boundaries to protect revenue and prevent the entrance into Canada of undesirable, and they also do excellent service in keeping a watchful eye on drug smugglers.

Woodpecker Easy to Recognize

The woodpecker is the easiest of all birds to recognize. His habits are peculiar and distinctive. He clings to the side of a tree or pole as if thrown there and stuck. True, other birds—chickadees, crested titmice, nuthatches, and brown creepers, to name a few—climb up and down tree-trunks, but these do it with a pleasing grace wholly unlike the woodpecker's clumsy and awkward movements. And, as most of them are much smaller than the woodpecker, there is little danger of making mistakes in recognition. The nuthatches are possibly the only birds likely to be confused with him; but their peculiar habit of traveling down a tree-trunk head foremost distinguishes them from the woodpecker, who always backs up when moving downward.—Our Dumb Animals

Typewritten Postage Stamp

The first issue of postage stamps made by Uganda, a British protectorate in Africa, were produced on a typewriter. This was in 1886 and while not old as stamps go they enjoy the distinction of being rather scarce. The letters U G stand for Uganda government and the value is expressed in cowrie shells, which passed as currency in Uganda at the rate of about 12 shells for one penny.

Where Stars Originated

The origin of stars is still a matter of speculation, but numerous theories have been advanced. One of the most recently suggested is that by Jeans, who believes that stars originated in the nebulae, which having assumed a rotating movement gradually assumed the form of an oblate spheroid and eventually separated.

17 BLACK BEANS TO LIVE IN MEMORIAL

Texas Honors Victims of Tragic Event.

LA Grange, Texas.—A tall granite column stands in this town to honor the memory of the fifty-three Texans who lost their lives in two of the most tragic events in Lone Star state history. Recently unveiled, the monument extols the men who fell in the ill-fated Mer expedition of 1842, recalling the story of the seventeen black beans that spelled death for as many men at Hacienda Salado. It was erected after nearly 100 years of fundraising.

It was in 1842 that the bones of the seventeen martyrs of Mer, together with those of thirty-six other Texans massacred in the Battle of Salado Creek were returned to Fayette county soil and buried near here.

Campaign for Funds Begun

Citizens of La Grange at once began efforts to raise money for a suitable marker, according to Houston Wade, postal clerk, whose history of the expedition was published with the monument's unveiling.

In the summer of 1842 the Republic of Texas was still at war with Mexico, although the decisive battle of San Jacinto had been fought and won by Gen. Sam Houston's army six years before. On September 11 a force of 1,200 Mexicans under Gen. Adrian Woll, invaded the village of San Antonio, taking captive the district judge, the grand jury and the lawyers attending the court then in session.

The Texas militia west of the Brazos river was ordered to attack the Mexicans. Capt. Matthew Caldwell, of Gonzales, led a company of eight men against Woll and defeated the Mexicans at Salado creek. Through a misunderstanding of positions, however, Capt. Nicholas Dawson, of La Grange, leading a company of fifty-three men to join Caldwell, found himself surrounded and cut off by the retreating Mexicans. The Mexicans cut down the Texans with grape-shot. Thirty-two were killed and a number of others captured.

Brigadier General Somervell led a force of Texans in pursuit of the enemy, who retreated across the Rio Grande. A unit under Capt. William S. Fisher, followed the Mexicans across the river.

Defeated in Attack on Mer.

On Christmas night, 1842, the Texans attacked the Mexican village of Mer. Fisher was wounded and the Texans surrendered. They were marched toward Mexico City, but at Hacienda Salado, 100 miles from Saltillo, they escaped. After wandering for days in the mountains, they were recaptured by a Mexican cavalry squad.

Gen. Santa Anna ordered one in each ten of the prisoners to be shot. On March 25 they were made to draw beans from a pitcher held by an officer. It contained seventeen black beans and 150 white ones. That night the seventeen were shot as they sat on a log.

The rest of the band, with the exception of Capt. Ewing Cameron, were taken to Mexico City and kept at hard labor for years. Eventually all were liberated.

Later, during the war with Mexico, Texas members of Gen. Zach Taylor's army got an order on the alcalde of Hacienda Salado to surrender the remains of the seventeen Texans who were shot there. They were brought to La Grange, center of the district from which most of the Texans had come. A few years later the remains of the thirty-six killed at Salado creek also were returned to Texas.

Former Kaiser Leads Germany's Millionaires

Berlin.—The former kaiser still leads the dwindling list of German millionaires, according to the latest tax figures. His property is assessed at 700,000,000 marks.

The post-war inflation and the more recent world depression have played havoc with the ranks of the wealthy. Where there were more than 15,000 millionaires before the war, there now are only 2,300.

The duke of Thurn and Taxis is the second richest man, with 250,000,000 marks, and the dukes of Hohenlohe-Oehringen, Fuerstenberg and Donnersmarck all have more than 100,000,000 marks. The famous Krupp steel mill family property is valued at 200,000,000 marks.

Single Tree Yields 23 Varieties of Fruits

San Leandro, Calif.—When J. A. Haefele, San Francisco musician, wants a different fruit for breakfast he can get it.

By grafting Haefele has developed one free tree which produces 23 varieties of fruit, including Blenheim apricots, Hale's early peaches,ectarinas, sugar plums, Italian prunes, egg plums, purple plums, Santa Rosa plums, Burbank plums, German prunes, Hungarian plums, Royal Anne cherries, green-gage plums, French prunes, Crawford peaches, early Grafton peaches, Japanese plums, damson plums, Lambert cherries, Morrepar apricots and a new "mystery plum."

One Covered Bridge Remains
Cherryfield, Maine.—Spanning the Narragansett river here is the only remaining covered bridge along the Atlantic highway. It is 65 feet long, dates back to 1843, and has special runways for pedestrians.

Martin Luther Will Be Honored at Service in Immanuel Church

Immanuel Lutheran Church will hold commemorative services Sunday evening, November 12—The Rev. Fred H. Lindemann will be speaker.

The 450th anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther will be celebrated next month by Lutherans all over the world. As previously announced, a group of seven Lutheran churches in and near Kingston will unite for a joint celebration of this event on Sunday afternoon, November 12, in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. For the evening of the same day Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church on Livingston street has arranged for another commemoration of the same event. A service will be held in that church at 7:30 p. m.

A planning committee, consisting of William Thiel, chairman, George Bode, Milfred Buddenhagen, George Weil and the Rev. E. L. Witte ex-officio, has secured an outstanding leader in Lutheran circles to deliver an anniversary address for this evening service, the Rev. Fred H. Lindemann of Trinity Lutheran Church in Long Island city. His topic will be, "Martin Luther: Rebel or Reactionary?" The committee in charge of these events in the local area have secured the cooperation of such exceptionally strong leaders as Dr. A. R. Wentz for the afternoon service and of the Rev. Mr. Lindemann for the evening service.

The Rev. Mr. Lindemann has long been a member of the board of directors of the Atlantic District of his synod, and is widely known as a contributor to the "American Lutheran", the official publication of the American Lutheran Publicity Bureau. In a recent article concerning the coming celebration of the anniversary of Luther's birth the "American Lutheran" said, "If the voice of him after whom our church has been named could come to us over the space of the intervening generations, it would admonish us to combat the flagrant ill, and tendencies of our time with the inerrant and ever-applicable word of divine truth. It would encourage us to proclaim with renewed vigor the message of the crucified Lord who alone can set men free from the powers of darkness and the dominance of sin. It would sanction the utilization of

TWO BIDS FOR OPERATION OF HUDSON RIVER NIGHT LINE

Federal Judge John C. Knox Wednesday afternoon received bids for the operation of the night line steamboats of the Hudson River Navigation Corporation which has been in the hands of receivers since early last year. The McAllister Night Lines, Inc., offered 8 per cent of the gross receipts, guaranteeing a minimum payment of $15,000 for the six months' period beginning November 1 and ending April 30, 1934, and 12 per cent of the gross for the summer season beginning May 1 and ending October 31, 1934.

Only one other bid was received. The Hudson River Steamboat Company offered 8 per cent of the combined gross from its own boats and those of the Hudson River Navigation Corporation for the winter season but made no bid for the summer operation.

Employment Drops, Wage Average Same

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—October earnings of factory employees are maintaining their September volume in federal reserve board figures, despite a decline from last month's employment level.

The board's October report says both factory employment and total wages advanced between mid-August and mid-September, but that employment has dropped in recent weeks.

"During September and the first half of October, industrial activity declined, as it had in August, following the rapid expansion of the spring and early summer. In the first half of October further declines in output of automobiles, bituminous coal and petroleum were reported."

Quick Cooking Called Secret of Good Cabbage

QUICK cooking in plenty of boiling salted water is the secret of cooking cabbage so that it keeps its color, has a mild agreeable flavor, retains as much as possible of its food value and is not likely to cause digestive disturbances, says the Consumer Information Service of the New York Department of Agriculture and Markets. This general method for cooking cabbage is recommended:

1. Shred or cut the cabbage fine.
2. Drop it into enough boiling salted water to cover it completely, using 1 to 1½ teaspoons salt to each quart of water. The salt helps to retain the color and improve the flavor of the cabbage.
3. Place uncovered over a hot fire, and boil as rapidly as possible. Boil new green cabbage 5 to 10 minutes; white cabbage, 7 to 10 minutes; red cabbage, 20 to 25 minutes. Red cabbage needs some acid in order to retain its color. This may be added by using two or three sour apples or 3 to 4 tablespoons vinegar to each quart of cabbage.
4. Drain cabbage immediately. It may then be seasoned or combined with other foods. The cooking liquid is discarded because of its unpleasant sulphur flavor.

Among the good combinations with cabbage and sauerkraut are cornbeef and cabbage, ham hocks and cabbage, spareribs and sauerkraut, ham and cabbage, frankfurters and sauerkraut.

Oldest City in World
Tiahuanaco, Bolivia, is believed to be the oldest city in the world. It is thought to have existed before Ur or the building of the pyramids. The race of its founders has never been identified. St. Augustine, Fla., is the oldest city in the United States.

Farmers' Holiday Gains Impetus

(By The Associated Press.)

The national farmers' holiday strike was apparently given impetus in Wisconsin today with the decision of the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool to participate, beginning next Tuesday, and in New Mexico, where the state holiday association was ordered to join.

A. N. Young, president of the Wisconsin Farmers' Union, said his group would follow the milk pool's lead.

Violence flared in northern Wisconsin. Pickets invaded several cheese factories and creameries, dumping milk and pouring kerosene and ashes in milk vats and churns. Milk was dumped.

Near Omaha, Neb., there was a different story. Five hundred Iowa farmers escorted trucks into Nebraska.

There was little activity in Iowa, where Milio Reno pleaded against violence.

The North Dakota wheat embargo appeared to be proving effective. Shipments were at a virtual standstill.

Barbour, 47 year old brother of U. S. Senator Warren Barbour, of New Jersey, was taken to the Elizabeth street station, where he was booked. His home is in Great Neck, L. I.

Saint's Body Found in Wall

Why nuns of the convent of San Salvatore, in Caltagirone, Sicily, held a mysterious festival every August for 130 years has been revealed by workmen. Each year the church was illuminated and people all over the countryside heard merry bells, but the nuns never divulged the reason for their rejoicing. A chance blow of the workers' pickaxes opened a space in the wall in which was the body of the Roman virgin Gaudenzia who was tortured and martyred during the persecution of the Christians 1,400 years ago. A short time before the French revolution the body of Saint Gaudenzia was taken from Italy to the church. Fearing revolutionists would desecrate the body it was hidden in the walls and the hiding place kept secret. It was in a perfect state of preservation when found.—Montreal Herald.

SHOES FOR MEN AND WOMEN

The Only Shoe Designed and Endorsed by

DR. M. W. LOCKE OF WILLIAMSBURG, ONT.

Made in the U. S. A.

Come in and be fitted correctly, with the last best suited to your feet.

The secret of your foot comfort and our success is careful fitting.

Our orthopedic department, where shoes for deformed feet are made and fine shoe repairing done, is at your service.

FOREWORD

I HAVE been asked to write a foreword to this booklet—this I willingly do because to a great extent I have been instrumental in having this shoe manufactured. I have always believed that many ailments of the body arise from unhealthy feet, poor circulation and weak arches, and that many of these ailments would not have occurred if feet were correctly shod and shoes properly fitted. At one time, to obtain the desired results, I prescribed certain changes in the shoes worn by my patients, always believing that in some way a shoe could be completely manufactured embodying features that would obtain better results. Eventually I met... a shoe manufacturer willing to undertake the task and assume the necessary expense. The first shoes indicated that many changes and improvements were necessary... but eventually the present M. W. Locke shoe was developed. I was asked to give my endorsement to these shoes but withheld this until at least ten thousand pairs were fitted or sold to my patients. I know that they have been helpful to many thousands of my patients and to many who have not attended my clinic. I am of course not a shoe manufacturer, nor have I any stock or shares of any kind in any company manufacturing this special shoe.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 25 (AP).—The dollar was in a strong position during the early part of today's trading, as somewhat lower prices were made by market makers in the belief that the price of the dollar would be raised by the Federal Reserve board.

The U. S. dollar was the new price for the dollar at $1.24 and a half, up from yesterday's price of $1.24 and a half, and 48 cents above the London rate. Equities, grains, cotton and most other commodities were little changed, however, although they were not too reactionary. The dollar was virtually at a standstill in foreign exchange dealings. Bonds were irregular.

Shares of Homestake Mining advanced 13 points and those of U. S. Industrial Alcohol advanced 1. Case sagged 2 and others off fractionally to around a point, included U. S.

Says State Giving Attention to Ban Return of Saloon

Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., Albany Federal Government of Action on Problem—No Specific Regulation Yet Adopted—Prohibited for in Statute.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP).—Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., today informed the federal government today that New York state is giving "careful attention" to the question of banning the return of the old-fashioned saloon.

Mr. Bennett said in a letter to Attorney General Cummings at Washington, however, that no "specific regulation" prohibiting the return of the saloon has yet been adopted.

He pointed out that the state law gives the liquor board considerable power to regulate saloons.

Attorney General Bennett's letter was addressed also to Frank M. Parrish, acting head of the criminal division of the attorney general's forces.

Mr. Parrish wrote the New York State Attorney General asking to be informed of the regulatory provisions in the New York law for use in connection with a study being made by the Federal Government into the regulation of the sale of intoxicating liquors.

"In answer to your inquiry as to whether or not the old-fashioned saloon is prohibited in the state, I would say that provisions are found in the statute intended to deal with this matter," Mr. Bennett wrote.

"In addition, the state board is giving the subject careful attention, although a specific regulation with respect thereto has not yet been adopted."

Simpson Gave Excellent Service

selected three times and resigned as supervisor of the town of Shandaken on January 1, 1930, to become county clerk.

In the Board of Supervisors Mr. Simpson's business ability was quickly recognized and he was named on several of the important committees, including the Committee on Accounts, the Committee on Poor, Committee on Equalization and Insurance and others.

Throughout his entire career Mr. Simpson has taken an active interest in public affairs. As supervisor he served his town well and in addition he took an active part in village affairs outside his official duties. He was active in the matter of regulating the flow of the Esopus Creek from the entrance of the Shandaken Tunnel to the Ashokan Reservoir.

When the City of New York diverted the Schoharie water through the Shandaken Tunnel into the Esopus he was active with other sportsmen in protecting the fishing in the Esopus and seeing that the flow of water was so regulated as to preserve fishing in the town of Shandaken and the adjoining town of Olive. He is now taking an active part in the matter of securing further control of the New York city water to prevent damage to property.

Re-election of James A. Simpson as county clerk of Ulster county means a continuation of the present efficient, economical and courteous conduct of that office and his election in November is assured.

And then she'll be glad to demonstrate for your benefit exactly how reading the ads led to economies and advantages in the purchase of everything from that club steak you liked so well last night to the new dress you've just been admiring.

Then, too, she'll probably welcome the opportunity of proving to you that she can save you money and assure you of better quality by buying your shirts and socks and such for you after checking the ads.
